Welcome message from Neven Ilic, Panam Sports President

NEVEN ILIC A.
President Panam Sports IOC Member

Dear friends,

It is hard to believe how fast time goes by. It seems like just yesterday we were at Toronto's Rogers Center Stadium saying goodbye to the XVII Pan American Games at the Closing Ceremony.

The Games seemed so far away at the time, but today they are a reality. I took over as Panam Sports President in April 2017 and traveled to Lima some days after it was chosen as the host city and checked on site that no progress of construction works and planning was made for the Lima 2019 Pan American Games.

We had a meeting with COPAL President Carlos Neuhaus to decide if it was possible for the Peruvian capital to be the host city or if we had to go for a plan B.

In both cases, we were 100% sure not to throw away the dreams of hundreds of Peruvian athletes and thousands of sports enthusiasts from this country, who want to see this amazing continental event. We talked for more than two hours and, at the end of the meeting, we looked at each other, shook our hands and committed to bringing the task forward.

The mission was not at all easy. We had to start from scratch and had to plan for the next few years and, believe me, I did not hesitate for a second about the ability of the Organizing Committee and all Peruvians. I trusted them and gave all my support.

Welcome message from Neven Ilic, Panam Sports President

I admire the work, passion and dedication of each one of you. I know how hard and demanding it is to cover this type of event. Many of you are leaving your homes and families for many weeks, and I know you will not get enough sleep while you are at these Games.

Since then, we have not stopped working, so that everything turns out as well as possible. We worked against the clock, and today looking back at where we have come from, I am proud of everything that has been accomplished and how well Lima is doing to start a historic and unforgettable Pan American Games.

They are historic because it is undoubtedly the largest and most important multi-sports event Peru has ever organized, and also because never before has there been so many qualifying disciplines (22) for the Olympic Games. The best athletes in the Americas will participate, and many of them are Olympic and world champions. They are unforgettable because of the new generations that will be able to watch world-class athletes live, showing their professionalism and passion, and because the legacy that these Games will leave behind is imposing. And I hope that they mark a before and after in the history of Peruvian sports.

As always you, the media play a fundamental role in the successful delivery of the Games. You are the eyes of millions of people who cannot attend this event, but who can be present in this beautiful city of Lima through your printed pages, stories, articles, websites, pictures, and photographs and can imagine themselves having this incredible experience on site, even for a moment.

I admire the work, passion and dedication of each one of you. I know how hard and demanding it is to cover this type of event. Many of you are leaving your homes and families for many weeks, and I know you will not get enough sleep while you are at these Games. But I am also aware that this is a one-of-a-kind and rewarding experience. What sports arouse in each of us is often indescribable and makes us overcome fatigue and frustration, just like athletes, so we can approach our actions with optimism and motivation.

Thank you so much for being here in Lima covering the Pan American Games. We are waiting for you with open arms, and we want you to have a really incredible experience.

Kind regards.

Mascot

My name's Milco! I'm the mascot of the Lima 2019 Pan American and Parapan American Games. I was born in the most sporting Cuchimilcos' workshop around the world. I carry the heritage of a culture dated back to 1200, but I came to the world in 2017, in the Peruvian National Holidays. I'm the number one fan of the Pan American and Parapan American Games! I know that's not talent but hey! I can adapt to the most demanding conditions (like any Peruvian) and transform my tattoos and clothing according to the sport I practice: indoors, outdoors or aquatic sports. Awesome, right? I love competitiveness, but I love sports more than winning. So, I always defend fair play and JUSTICE above all! They say that I was born in a stone oven, but each field and court is my home. I'm in every little place that houses your favorite sports and in the enthusiastic hearts of each sports fan.

Values

- Pan American Games: Excellence, friendship, respect, and courage.
- Parapan American Games: Determination, equality, and inspiration.

Press Operations at Competition Venues and non Competition Venues

The press areas at competition venues are:

1. Press Center
2. Press stands (with or without tables)
3. Viewing spots
4. Mixed zone
5. Interview zones
6. Photographer positions

The details of each service are detailed below:

1. Press Center

The Press Center has workstations available so that the accredited press can work at the competition venue. It will be open two (02) hours before the beginning of a competition at the venue and will close two (02) and a half hours after the competition has concluded.

Competition venue media centers will have the following services and facilities:

- Media help desk
- Workspaces with power and free Wi-Fi
- Lounge area

- Lockers for photographers
- CATV screens with the sports of that venue

2. Press Tribune

The press tribune area is the dedicated space for accredited press with view of the field of play. Tribunes at all competition venues have a clear view of the field of play, with both tabled and non-tabled positions. Access to tribune seats will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

There will be Wi-Fi and a limited number of cabled Internet spots at the tabled positions.

Tabled seats:

- Wi-Fi
- Dedicated desks: 1/3 wired connection
- Power sockets
- Non-tabled seats:
- Wi-Fi

3. Viewing Spots

Not all competition venues have press tribunes; some of them (for example, marathon) will have viewing spots in specific areas where you may be located.

The following competition venues will have viewing spots:

- Parque Kennedy - Marathon
- Morro Solar - Mountain bike
- Agua Dulce beach - Triathlon
- Lima Golf - Golf

4. Mixed Zone

The mixed zone is athletes' first contact with the press, and it is located at the exit of the field of play. All athletes are required to go through the mixed zone. It is important to note that athletes are not obliged to talk to the press.

The Lima 2019 Press Operations team will oversee the press mixed zones at the competition venues. Athletes will first pass through the broadcast mixed zone before they get to the press.

The following clients will have access to the mixed zone:

- Rights-holding broadcasters
- Written press
- Photographers
- Please note that non-rights holding broadcasters must not bring recording equipment to the mixed zone

5. I-Zone – Interview Zone

The interview zone, better known as the I-Zone, is a new concept being applied for the first time at the Lima 2019 Pan American and Parapan American Games. Press may make requests for interviews with athletes or coaches to the Press Operations team, which will liaise with the teams and try to facilitate your request.

There will be an operational I-Zone for each sport. The media will be able to request interviews with athletes once they have finished competing, regardless of their ranking in the competition.

Non-rights holding broadcasters will have priority for interviews in the I-Zone. Note the I-Zone does not have a view of the field of play. Athletes requested by media will be invited to the I-Zone after going through the mixed zone to conduct interviews.

The Press Operations team will make its best efforts to escort selected athletes to this area, but unlike the mixed zone, it is not compulsory for athletes to enter the I-Zone.

6. Dedicated Photographer Positions

Photographer positions have been chosen to provide the best available views of the different competitions that will take place in Lima 2019. From these areas, accredited photographers will be able to catch the best moments of each of the 39 sports included in the Lima 2019 sports program.

Specific photographer positions are explained in the description of each competition venue. These positions will be available for accredited photographers on a first-come, first-served basis. In addition to the accreditation card, photographers must wear photo bibs to access the photographer positions. These bibs will be distributed during the photographer's briefing that will take place on Thursday, July 25, at the Main Press Center (MPC) from 11:30 to 12:30. Should you need to cover a competition before this date, you will be able to collect your bib from the venue. Please see the Venue Photo Supervisor on venue.

The Venue Photo Supervisors will be responsible for the photographer positions at the competition venues. All arrangements related to photographic coverage will be made directly with them. The use of tripods and drones is strictly prohibited.

Prime Photographer Positions

Some venues have a limited number of photographer positions available in key areas around the field of play. These positions are deemed prime positions. To access these prime positions, accredited photographers must first check their availability with the Venue Photo Supervisor of each venue. At the discretion of the Venue Photo Supervisor, photographers may be given a prime bib (light blue) and shown to the prime position. Before leaving the venue at the end of the day the photographer must return the prime bib to the Venue Photo Supervisor.

Ceremonies at Competition Venues

The medal ceremonies are solemn events of great prestige, which recognize athletes participating in the Pan American Games who have performed at the highest level. The medal ceremonies must be conducted with dignity and respect in order to promote the spirit of the Games and the values of sport. During each medal ceremony, a medal presenter and a gift presenter will be in attendance for individual awards, and three medal presenters and three gift presenters for team awards.

Each medal ceremony call shall follow the same format:

- Bronze medalist(s)
- Silver medalist(s)
- Gold medalist(s)

Photographers will have access to the medal ceremony. Arrangements will be made by the Venue Photo Supervisor, who will be responsible for making sure they have access to this event and can get the best possible positions for the ceremony.

Opening and Closing Ceremonies

The Lima 2019 Pan American Games Opening Ceremony will be held at the National Stadium on Friday, July 26, 2019, at 18:00. It will finish at approximately 21:30.

The Lima 2019 Pan American Games Closing Ceremony will be held on Sunday, August 11, 2019, at the National Stadium. It will start at 19:00 and finish at approximately 21:00.

The creative proposal is based on a unique concept, in which the Opening and Closing Ceremonies will complement each other to highlight the different elements Peru has to offer.

Balich Worldwide Show, a company with experience staging massive events around the world, will oversee both ceremonies.

Seven hundred and fifty tickets will be given out (500 for press and 250 for photographers) some days prior to the opening ceremony. On the day media may take buses to the National Stadium from 14:30, where the ceremony will be held. The Press Center will be open from 15:00 and you may wait there until the ceremony starts (18:00). The frequency of vehicles will be approximately every 20 minutes. We recommend you to arrive in time to avoid any setbacks. The last return bus will leave 2 hours after the end of the event, approximately 23:30.

Press Spaces in the Pan American and Parapan American Village

The Pan American Village will have a press center with a workroom for 25 people, a press conference room for 50 people, and a room for one-on-one interviews. National Olympic Committees may reserve a press conference room at the Village Media Center help desk. The help desk will provide official information and also manage media access to the International Zone of the Pan American Village.

Media will be assigned a quota of 200 guest passes (100 for written press and 100 for broadcast) for the International Zone of the Pan American Village. Guest passes will allow access to the International Zone from 09:00 to 21:00. It is important to note that, as in past Games, media will not be granted access to the Residential Zone. However, there will be two (2) media tours of the Pan American Village before the Opening Ceremony.

There will be no media access to the Pan American Village on July 26 (Opening Ceremony) or on August 11 (Closing Ceremony).

Transportation

The Lima 2019 Games transportation network is a group of lanes that connect all competition and non-competition official venues. This network will guarantee that Lima 2019 accredited participants can travel in optimal conditions of comfort, security and reliability through Games-dedicated lanes. Furthermore, it will reduce demand for traveling inside the city and ensure traffic management in Lima and Callao.

The media transport mall will be located on Calle El Comercio, outside the MPC and transportation will be provided to the competition venues.

During the competition, media transportation will be available on a daily basis on a specific schedule from the MPC to the competition venues. The schedule will be posted on the Lima 2019 mobile app.

Public transportation to the MPC will also be available for the media. There will be no parking available for media at the competition venues.

The types of transportation privileges for each category and populations are shown on the following table:

TRANSPORTATION CODE	TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM DESCRIPTION	PRIVILEGES
TM	Transportation system	Transportation system Public transportation system

We recommend using the official Lima 2019 transportation from the MPC to the competition venues, as it will get you to the nearest area to the venue entrance.

Note: The official transportation departs from the MPC to the competition venue and vice-versa. If you wish to go to another competition venue on the same day, you must go back to the MPC and take the corresponding transportation to that venue.

Arrivals and Departures

The Lima 2019 Arrivals and Departures team is responsible for ensuring that the experience of entering and exiting Peru is an efficient process for all participants of the Lima 2019 Pan American Games. In order to achieve this objective, operations include:

- Flight information and baggage management
- Airport welcome
- Airport services
- Transfers

Transportation at the Jorge Chávez International Airport will be available from July 12 for all accredited participants. Participants with an entry (or exit) point different from the Jorge Chávez International Airport will not have access to these services.

Upon arriving at the airport, the Lima 2019 Transport personnel, along with staff from other areas, will guide you through the arrival and departure process (applicable to the international press). To access the Lima 2019 transportation, which will take you to the Main Press Center, you may go to the "Load Zone". This area is exclusive to accredited press and broadcast clients and is located at the exit of the International Departures Zone of the airport. To access this service, you must show your pre-valid card (PVC).

Once you arrive at the Main Press Center, you may go to the Main Help Desk to learn the main meeting points in the districts of San Borja and Miraflores, or you may contact us at operacionesdeprensa@lima2019.pe for more information.

Transportation

The transportation services at the airport will operate 24 hours a day. A shuttle-type service will be available with frequencies between 00:30 minutes to 01:30 hour, according to the peak days and times, as well as the arrival and departure schedule of accredited clients with TM privilege.

If the client does not have a pre-valid card (PVC), the Arrivals and Departures Department will validate the transportation privilege and will give them a pass indicating the corresponding type of service. We recommend you to print the official information that you have received from Lima 2019 to collect your accreditation card.

Transportation to Meet Points

Buses will be available at the press hotel stops 24 hours a day as of July 12, with more extended frequencies overnight. The details of the route will be covered in the Press Transportation Guide. The meeting points in the districts of San Borja and Miraflores are outlined in the Accommodation section.

Main Press Center Transportation
The transportation hub at the Main Press Center will operate as of July 12, and the frequency details by precinct are included in the Media Transportation Guide.

Venue Transportation

Transportation at the competition venues will be available from two hours before the Press Center opening time at venues to two and a half hours after each competition ends.

Keep in mind that the official Lima 2019 transportation service leaves the MPC to the competition venues, and vice-versa. Additionally, they will take you to the nearest areas to the competition venue entrance. We suggest you use the official transportation of the event.

For satellite venues, round-trip transportation will be offered according to the competitions. No regular frequencies will apply as they are the furthest venues from the MPC. The service will be available while the venues are operating.

Pan American Lanes and Hours of Operation

The Lima 2019 Lane is a network consisting of a 28-kilometer exclusive lane, a 57-kilometer preferential lane, and a 51-kilometer preferential lane with access to the Lima 2019 venues, connecting key venues, accommodation, and transportation malls throughout Lima.

The exclusive lane will operate 24 hours a day. The Media Transportation Guide will provide more information, including benefits as users of this service.

The Transportation Department will have a mobile app to check the transportation schedule with timetables and bus tracking. The information will be included in the Media Transportation Guide, published on the website.

Perú

Peru is a diverse country. Nature, history, culture, tradition, cuisine, adventure, and fun are found within its borders to provide unforgettable experiences for those who want to visit this beautiful country.

With over 10,000 years of history, it boasts a great multicultural richness and traditions: a delicious, award-winning cuisine, impressive archaeological complexes, 12 World Heritage sites, and large nature reserves. Undoubtedly, it is one of the most diverse countries in the world.

Peru is located in the western part of South America. It borders with Ecuador, Colombia, Brazil, Bolivia, and Chile. It has 1,285,215 km² of land and 200 nautical miles in the Pacific Ocean, as well as 60 million hectares in Antarctica. It is estimated that the population exceeds 31.5 million inhabitants.

It is the third largest country in South America and one of the 20 largest countries in the world—its territory is greater than Spain and France together. As an advisory member of the Antarctic Treaty, it has a scientific base called “Machu Picchu” in that continent.

The country is split into 25 regions or departments, including the Constitutional Province of Callao where the main port of entry to Peru is located. Lima is the capital, which was founded in 1535 by the Spanish, and was the capital of the Viceroyalty of Peru. After independence in 1821, it became the capital of the Republic.

Peru is a megadiverse country. It contains 11 ecoregions and 84 life zones from the 117 that exist in the world. It has a large multiplicity of landscapes due to the geographical conditions, which offers a wide variety of natural resources. Three traditional major regions can be identified in its territory according to their altitudes: coast, highlands, and jungle.

The jungle occupies 59% of its territory, where 12% of the country's population live. The highlands are dominated by the Andes mountain range, which occupies 30% of the territory and is home of 36% of the population. Most of the population—52%— live on the coast, despite representing 11% of the national territory.

Lima

Lima is the capital of Peru and its largest city. With more than 9.5 million inhabitants, Lima is also Peru's most populated city and ranks fifth among Latin America's most populated cities. Currently, it is considered Peru's political, cultural, financial and commercial center.

Official Language

Spanish is spoken by 84% of the Peruvian population, making it by far the most widely spoken language in Peru. However, there is a complex group of around 47 native languages. Two of the most important native languages are Quechua and Aymara that are spoken in the Andean regions. Meanwhile, in the Amazon region, people speak Ashaninka and Aguaruna.

Culture

As the main port of entry to the country, Lima has developed an important tourism industry and is one of the most visited cities in Latin America.

The historic center of Lima was declared a World Heritage Site by UNESCO in 1991, and its churches are a top tourist attraction. Besides, Lima is the only South American capital with access to the ocean. Its beaches are perfect for surfers, and one can enjoy the gentle and refreshing breeze while riding a bike or walking along its boardwalk. Tourists can also enjoy paragliding over the Pacific Ocean.

Lima has been appointed the gastronomy capital of Latin America due to its high-quality cuisine and the passion of Peruvian chefs.

Geography and Climate

Lima is located in the coastal desert of Peru, on the skirt of the Andes' western range. Peru's coastline and beaches are approximately 130 km long, and it extends close to 50 km to the east.

The city's climate is a combination of an almost total absence of rain with high levels of atmospheric humidity and permanent cloud cover. Summer (December to April) is humid and warm, while winter months (June to September) are cloudy and mild. During Games-time, the temperature fluctuates between 19 °C and 12 °C. The humidity causes a lower thermal sensation. We suggest delegates wear warm clothing during day and night.

Time Zone

Local time: Eastern Standard Time (GMT-5).

Currency, Exchange Rate, Credit Cards, ATMs and Taxes (Tipping)

Currency and Exchange Rate

The sol is the official currency of Peru. Its symbol is S/. and its ISO currency code is PEN. Peruvian coins have the following denominations: 10 cents, 20 cents, and 50 cents, 1 sol, 2 soles, and 5 soles.

Banknotes are issued in denominations of 10, 20, 50, 100, and 200 soles.

The PEN to USD exchange rate is stable due to the periodic intervention of the Central Reserve Bank and is at USD 1 to PEN 3.33 (October 2018).

Money can be exchanged at the airport, exchange houses or banks. Credit cards are accepted at business establishments, hotels, restaurants and travel agencies. However, it is a good idea to have Peruvian soles in cash for minor expenses.

Be careful of exchanging money with currency exchange dealers working on the street. Tipping is optional and is generally not included in the bill. It is customary to leave 10% of the total bill at restaurants.

Credit Cards

Visa, MasterCard, American Express, Diners Club, and other popular credit cards are widely accepted at hotels, restaurants, and stores. However, some restaurants and small stores only accept cash.

ATMs

You may find ATMs in drugstores, gas stations, supermarkets, and malls.

Taxes

The General Sales Tax (IGV) is 18%. For foreigners, some services are exempted from this tax, as accommodations at hotels. Amazon regions (such as Loreto, Ucayali, and Madre de Dios) are also exempted from this payment.

Electricity

Voltage in Peru is 220 Volts and 60 Hertz. Outlets are especially for two-flat or two-round pin plugs. Most of four- and five-star hotels offer 110-volt power outlets for shavers. Plugs are either type A, B, or C.

At the Pan American Village, all apartments will have type-L plugs.

Information About Cellphones

Local cellphone providers such as Movistar, Claro, Entel, and Bitel are reliable. Many of these providers have information desks at the airport or points of sale close to the recommended hotels.

Medical Services

Emergency Services and Medical Transportation

Ambulances will be stationed at competition venues, training venues, and the Pan American Village Polyclinic during medical services operational hours, and the spectator first-aid stations will have permanent ambulance service.

Ambulance services will be provided at satellite accommodations, the Games Family Hotel and non-competition venues as required and according to referral or counter-referral needs.

The defined areas for ambulance services and transfer will be as follows:

- Ambulance services in Lima Metropolitan Area, Provinces of Lima and province of Callao:
- North: as far as Ancón
- South: as far as Cañete
- East: as far as Chosica
- West: La Punta, Callao
- Ambulance services in Paracas, province of Pisco, department of Ica.

Food and Water

The following is recommended:

- Eat only fresh fruits and vegetables that have been well cooked.
- Eat at clean and safe food establishments.
- Preferably, eat at establishments that have been certified by local governments of the city. Certifications must be easily identified with a visible label that states the health certification status of each restaurant.
- Drink bottled or boiled water.
- It is not advisable to drink tap water in Lima; however, bottled mineral water is safe and available everywhere. Having ice in your drinks usually is safe at high-class hotels and restaurants, but it is better to avoid drinking iced beverages in food booths or rural areas.

Peruvian Cuisine

Peru is a destination that is best discovered through your smell and taste. With a wide range of food supplies and creative and innovative gastronomy based on unique and native products, Peruvian cuisine has met with international success.

Delicious traditional Peruvian dishes reflect the history and culture of the country:

- Aguadito de mariscos: A combination of fish and seafood in a green sauce soup.
- Peruvian arroz con pollo: Fluffy rice with cilantro, vegetables and chicken previously marinated in chicha de jora (fermented corn beverage).
- Ceviche: A delicious combination of fish and seafood marinated in salt, lemon juice, and limo chili.
- Lomo saltado: Sliced beef-stir fry with onions, tomatoes and soy sauce.
- Jalea mixta: All kinds of breaded seafood and fish.

- Papa a la huancaína: Boiled potatoes with a cheese and yellow chili paste.
- Rocoto relleno: Spicy rocoto peppers baked and stuffed with beef and raisins, covered in cheese.
- Tacu tacu: An incredible mix of beans and rice, whose flavor is normally combined with a juicy steak.
- Ají de gallina: Shredded chicken with yellow chilli paste and bread slices soaked in milk. It is served over boiled potatoes and rice.

This fascinating cuisine has the fortune of having an exceptional drink: traditional Pisco. This is the flagship beverage of Peru and is a key ingredient in Peruvian cuisine. It is an elixir made from distilled grapes and has various presentations: pure pisco (when it is produced from a specific type of different pisco varieties that are divided into aromatic and non-aromatic categories), acholado (a blend of two or more grape varieties), and mosto verde. It is only produced in the departments of Lima, Ica, Arequipa, Moquegua, and Tacna, so it has designation of origin status.

This drink can be enjoyed pure or in the classic Pisco Sour, the Peruvian national drink that combines pisco with sugar syrup, lemon, ice, a frothy egg-white top, and a few drops of Angostura bitters. Additionally, it may be used as the basis of an addictive invention of unequalled freshness: the typical Chilcano, which only has pisco (preferably aromatic), ice, and ginger ale.

Travel Medical Insurance

Although there are medical agreements, it is advisable to have private travel medical insurance.

Length of Flights

The following is recommended:

- Stretch your legs, whenever possible. Take short walks down the aisle to stimulate the blood flow.
- Wear comfortable and loose-fitting clothes. Avoid wearing elastic socks up or below the knees, thighs or waist.
- Take short walks as frequently as possible, stretching the arms and legs regularly.
- Avoid crossing your legs to prevent blood flow obstruction.
- Drink as much water as you can to avoid dehydration.

Special Requirements

The XVIII Pan American Games and Parapan American Games are committed to making sure that all participants have a productive and pleasant stay in Lima. We encourage participants with dietary problems and allergies, relevant medical issues and/or any other special needs to inform the Organizing Committee at mpc@lima2019.pe. The Organizing Committee will make every effort to meet these requirements.

Public Transportation and Taxi Service
Taxis in Peru do not have a taximeter. We recommend using taxi services through mobile apps (such as Uber or Cabify) or negotiating the price with the driver before starting your journey. It is advisable to use the service of official taxi companies. Participants can get this information at the Lima 2019 venue media center help desk. Licensed taxi services suggested by your hotel concierge are also recommended.
